

ACES & KNAVES

a film about bridge

A New Year's gift is coming your way: An exclusive virtual screening of "the best documentary on bridge ever made" (Michael Becker, Hall of Fame). January 15th-January 22nd. Tickets are $15 and include a Zoom conversation with the Wolpert clan, Gavin (a star of the film), his wife Jenny, and Gavin's mother, Hazel—Aces one and all. You can join the Zoom live at 3 pm EST on Sunday, January 17th, or watch a recording through the 22nd. Click here to watch the trailer and buy your ticket: <https://watch.showandtell.film/watch/aces-and-knaves-wolpert>

Here's a little clip of Gavin from ACES & KNAVES, talking about why people cheat at the game of bridge. <https://vimeo.com/497361158>

ACES & KNAVES is a documentary for and about us—the millions of people around the world who discover the game of bridge and never let it go. It's a tale about why we're obsessed with points, partners, and proving our mettle, told by world champions and mere mortals alike. It's about bruised egos and the exhilaration we feel when we win in this high-stakes battle of brain vs. brain. The film also delves into the cheating scandal that rocked the bridge world in 2015. And interviews with neurologists and psychologists will convince even those who have never picked up a hand why bridge is head and shoulders above every other mind sport.

"A gem! Humorous, frank, and personal...a story even non-bridge players will find entertaining and completely accessible." ACBL Bulletin